

Liberal Arts College

Lois and Stan Tucker Essay Competition

$1,000 SCHOLARSHIP PRIZE

Essay Topic:

“Millennial Dreams? My Vision of Humanistic Education in the 21st Century”

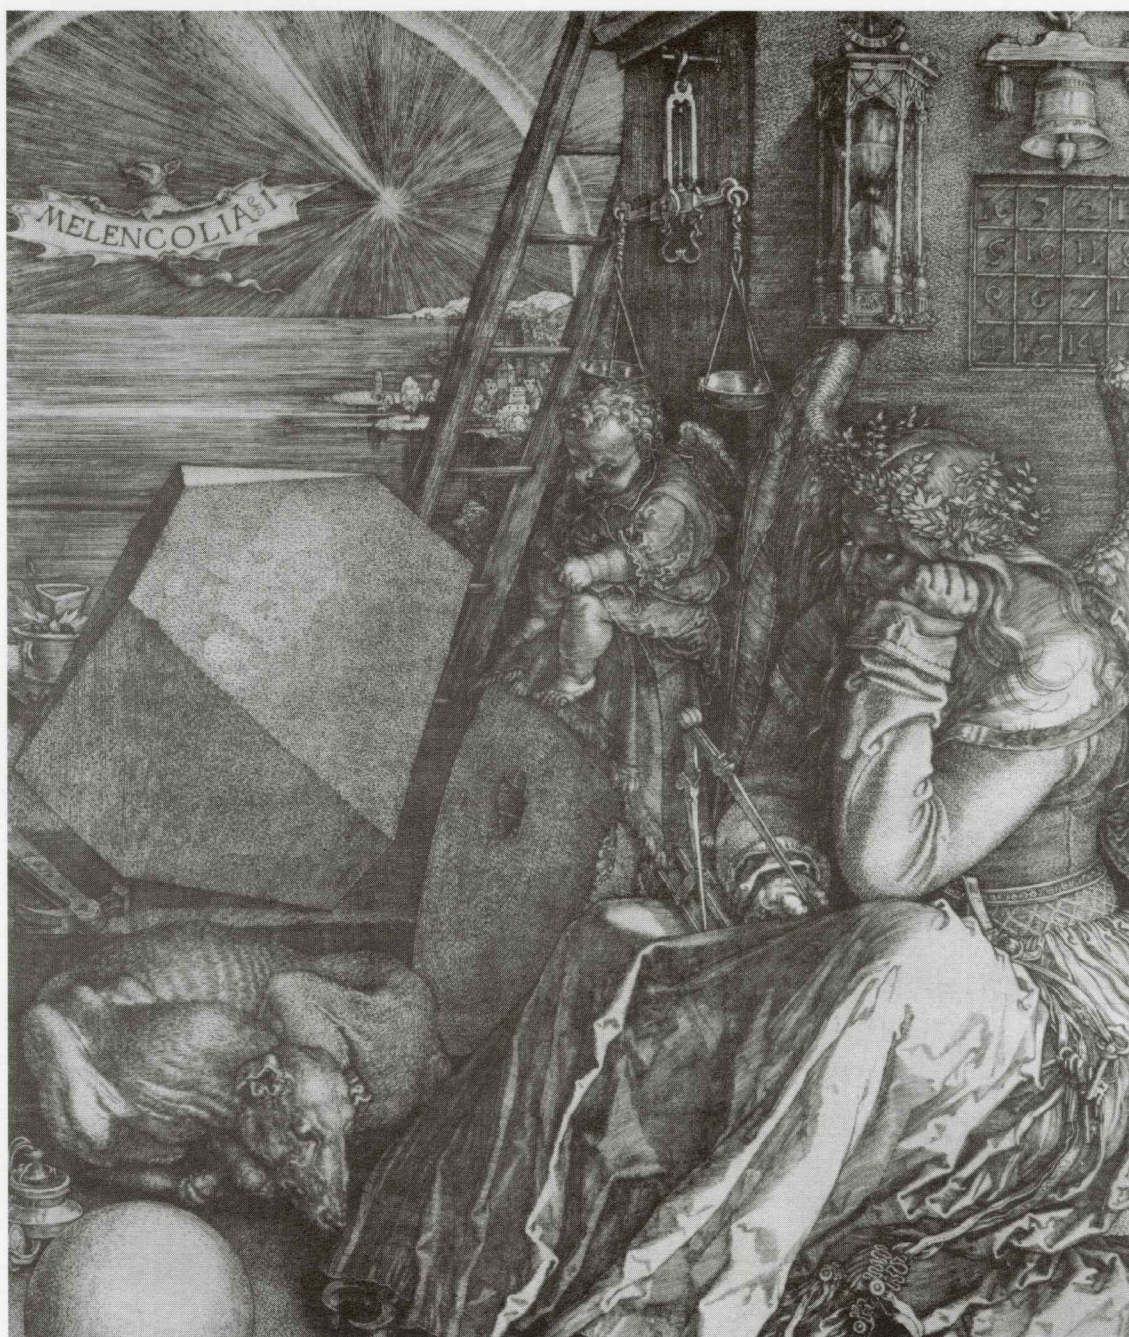

Concordia's renowned Liberal Arts College is once again pleased to announce its annual $1,000 Entrance Scholarship

Who is Eligible?

New students entering Liberal Arts College in the 1997-98 academic year (interested students should phone or write for additional information and to arrange an interview with the College).

Requirements

Essays must be typed, no longer than 1,000 words, written in either English or French, and submitted to the College before Monday, June 2, 1997.

“Still the only (College) of its kind, 15 years on”

Montreal Gazette, Sept. 5, 1993

LAC's Grads – Look where they are now!

- Julie Amblard (LAC/B.Admin., 1982) – Worked with Club Med; MBA Marketing, 1987; Professor of Business, and Business Consultant for Chamber of Commerce, Nice, France.
- Sam Black (LAC/Political Science, 1986) – PhD, Political Theory, Cambridge University, England; SSHRC Post-Doctoral Fellow; Instructor, Department of Philosophy, York University; England; book forthcoming, Oxford University Press.
- Anjali Choksi (LAC/English, 1986) – LL.B., Montréal, 1990; working in field of native law.
- Eddie Breuer (LAC/Religion, 1982) – PhD, Judaic Studies, Harvard University, 1990; doctoral research in Israel, 1996-88; Assistant professor, Religion, University of Pennsylvania, 1990.
- Dwayne Desaulnier (LAC/Political Science, 1989) – M.A., Public Administration, Carleton University; 1990, covered Gulf War for Standard Broadcast News, currently Assignment Editor, Parliamentary Bureau, Standard Broadcast News.
- Faye Trecartin (LAC/English, '86) – Professor, English Dept., John Abbott CEGEP.
- Carol McQueen (LAC/History), Rhodes Scholar 1995, Oxford University.
- Melina Takvorian (LAC/Engl., '94) – Engl. Lit., Ph.D., Université de Montréal.

For more information, or an appointment for a personal visit, write or call:

Principal Laszlo Géfin, Liberal Arts College
Concordia University, RR 105, SGW Campus
2040 Mackay Street, Montréal, Qué. H3G 1M8
(514) 848-2565

Concordia
UNIVERSITY

real education
for the real world